BASEBALL LEAGUE

Champion Cops Second of the Series from Vulcan

The big leagues haven't got all the good ball. We were at the game between Champion and Vulcan last Monday night at Champion and can vouch for that. It was a postponed game made necessary because of the rain on Wednesday. Everything is looking up these days, and the spirit has entered into the ball players. The exhibition put up by these teams on Monday night was indeed a credit to them and a real delight to the spectators. But we didn't win it, and it was sure a tough game to lose. Skinner opened in the box for Champion, and before he pulled him in the second or third innings Vulcan had made a score of five, their total for the game. He was replaced by Siler, who worked in form, and with good support, succeeded in preventing Vulcan from getting past third. Champion got two in the early frames, and then there was real baseball for a period, the kind that gets you the worth of your money no matter who wins. Champion tied in the eighth, and they went into the ninth with the score still a tie. There were two men out and two on bases when the batter hit to the infield. Here is where there was the real thing in high tension, both for the players and spectators. The ball was easily fielded, but the throw to the base was high. It was one of the few errors of the game, and Champion won. Willard Love pitched a fine game for Vulcan, and his support was the best that he has yet received, all of the boys going well. Their weakness was at the bat. Following is the personnel of the Vulcan team: Love, pitcher; ReToor, catcher; Shaw, first base; Isham, second base; Depoe; third base; Kerr, right field; Vaughn, centre field; Henderson, left field.

This is in accordance with an announcement made some time ago by Premier Greenfield that such an enquiry would be conducted.

POISON INCIDENTS

Get the Dope That the Grasshoppers Ought to Get

The campaign to get the grasshoppers is having a result that is not desired. Carelessness, or perhaps thoughtlessness is the more correct term, is the cause.

On Friday last, James McRobert drove a team of horses up to the store at Reid Hill and he then went in to make some purchases. A bag containing a quantity of grasshopper bait had been left in front of the store, and the horses were eating the bait when discovered. They later became very sick horses, but the immediate attention of a veterinary no doubt prevented the loss of a valuable team.

A little lad named Lyman, the son of Mr. M. G. Lyman, who lives west of Vulcan, was left for a time in an auto with a sack of this poison. The compound looks good, smells nice, and so far as we know, it tastes all right. There is molasses in it. The young lad was tempted to taste it, and the services of a doctor and a dose of emetic was necessary to make him right. All is well that ends well, but the result might have been serious, and the incident demonstrates the necessity of care and caution.

Mr. H. Oliver Jones, of near High River, the milk man, had the misfortune last week of having six of his cows poisoned with grasshopper bait, the result of which, up to this writing, is that four of them are dead and the other two very sick and not expected to live. A farm wagon loaded with the bait was proceeding homeward and a bag of the mixture fell on the roadside, and the cows happening that way, partook of the sweetened mixture of bran and molasses in quantities that caused the almost immediate death of two and made the others very sick. Since then two others have died and the remaining two are in a bad condition. It is a serious loss to Mr. Jones and we trust that no further similar accidents will be reported. The mixture in quantities is very poisonous and care should be taken in its handling and distribution.

Mr. Joe Myers left Monday night for Victoria.

Alberta claims to be the first province in the Dominion and probably the first in the world to adopt a system of government grading of cream. Under the new system, Alberta hopes to improve the quality of cream and hence the quality of butter production, and once again to win the crown of the premier butter province of the Dominion.

A basketball team of Vulcan girls, composed of Nan Tange, Bullah Hampton, Ruth Ferngreen, Maud Shaw, Olive Dunbar and Grace Schagel, played a game with the girls at Richmond Hill school on Friday last, winning by a good margin. Vulcan was largely represented at the ball game at Champion on Monday night. There were doctors and lawyers, preachers and printers, bankers and any number of merchants and other fellows, as well as a bunch of ladies, all rooting for their home town team. Let us all be out on Friday night to give High River a real welcome.

Despatches in the Monday daily papers report a destructive fire in the town of Rocky Mountain House, and one of the losers named is R. R. Hagerman, real estate and insurance broker. Mr. Hagerman until a short time ago was in a like business in Vulcan, and many friends here will much regret his misfortune.

Here is a story of an Irishman, a Scotchman and a Jew, and it is a true story. It all happened in Vulcan, and the Scotsman put it over the other two. Mr. Irishman had three or four hides that did not look any good to him, after he had paid money for them, and he hauled them out to the discard park. Along comes the Scot with a car load of refuse, and sees the hides. He puts them into the car and back to town they go. A day or two later a Jew from Calgary drops in and buys the hides for three or four dollars.

High River won by one in a baseball game against Vulcan, in "High River," on Friday last. It was more or less of a cinch for Vulcan up to the last innings, so it appeared, when they were five or six to the good, but that which sometimes happens did happen, and High River finished a winner. The return game will be played here on Friday, and a contest worth while is anticipated—one that will merit your patronage. After the game there will be a dance. Posters announce these interesting events. They make two opportunities to help the boys and enjoy yourselves.

And with only sufficient effort to make it interesting they caught more than one hundred and fifty pounds of fish. They were generous with them and friends along the way and in town shared their catch, and among these was The Advocate man. The fish were mighty good.

THE FREIGHT RATE QUESTION

How to lower the costs of railway transportation is the most important question before the people of Canada today.

Without going into history, the present situation is that freight rates have reached such a height that the farmer, especially in Western Canada, is suffering severely, and the manufacturer and other shippers find that the sale of their goods is restricted because people cannot afford to pay the freight. While the prices of farm products, lumber, minerals, manufactured goods and merchandise have been greatly reduced during the past two years, freight rates were greatly increased in 1920, and since that time have experienced only a slight reduction. We think that freight rates should come down with other prices. The railways should face conditions and reduce their operating costs just as manufacturers, farmers and others have reduced their operating costs.

We do not care to advise on ways and means, but we believe that the condition of the country's trade demands that there be an immediate, general and substantial reduction of freight rates to approximately the rates which were in effect before the 40 per cent increase in 1920. Moreover, we believe that, as the farmer is the primary producer, he should be given special encouragement.

When the slump came the prices of farm products and manufactured goods were not kept up by any artificial means. They had to be sold for what the market offered. Freight rates, on the other hand, were not only increased after the slump had commenced, but have been maintained at almost the same level all through it. Every other cost of production has been cut to the bone. High freight is the remaining obstacle. If the public want to buy goods at lower prices freight rates must come down.

THE BLAME

There is some little bit of carelessness to blame for three-fourths of the fires in Canada. In no phase of human activity can more disastrous results follow an apparently small and inconsequential action than in the destruction of property by fire. A worker in an upstairs office finishes with his cigarette. Does he extinguish it carefully or grind it under his heel? Sometimes! More often he gives it a graceful flip and it lights on the awning of the corner drug store down stairs and soon the fire department is dashing madly up the main thoroughfare. Father empties the ashes which should be taken to the back of the lot. But he is late to work and deposits them in a wooden box in the basement. Soon he has business with the insurance adjusters. The whistle blows in a factory. A worker anxious to get out of his overalls and washed up to keep an engagement, stuffs some of his oily rags and waste into a corner of a wooden locker instead of into the metal safety can provided by the management. Next morning he has no job. Neither have his fellow workers. Such carelessness is to blame for most fires.

If only the good were to teach higher morals this old world would be in a bad way.

As long as a woman thinks she is necessary to man's happiness—and the man agrees with her—both will be happy.

As a matter of political history, it would be interesting to know who was county clerk when Adam got his marriage license.

The other day a chap got married; gave the preacher a worthless cheque and took good money in change. That groom shouldn't complain if he finds his wife wears department store hair and a pneumatic form.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT

Weekly Times: Modern dancing was vigorously assailed by Dr. George Elliott of New York, who addressed the London conference of the Methodist Church, Saturday morning. "The old quadrille was dignified," he declared, "but the present day dance is a spasmodic worship of St. Vitus. They have gone from the esthetic to the athletic and acrobatic."

Toronto Mail and Empire: Nearly everything the farmers of Canada enjoy today in the way of economic reforms were given to them by party governments. The wonderful transportation system, the great elevator system, agricultural colleges, extremely liberal government aid to agricultural industry, good roads, etc., were obtained under party rule. In the way of legislation there is nothing the farmers ought to have that they cannot get from the party system. The promoters of the group system are likely to overreach themselves and hasten the return of political organization on party lines everywhere.

Camrose Canadian: Camrose will be one of the few large towns or cities that will refuse to retrovert from what was supposed to be a panacea for all the ills of a growing city, and will at least for another year, endeavor to get along with the land tax. . . . We are not blind to the fact that the present system works a hardship, but it is a fact that practically everyone who holds vacant lots purchased them with the sole object of speculation, and the town incurred its debt liability on an assessment which was arrived at from the values then existent. We can only hope that the action of the council in retaining the present system will be for the best.

The Philosopher: We hear a great deal nowadays and read a great deal about the increase of the general disregard of law. It may be true that there is a great deal of disregard of some enactments, some laws, and some bylaws. But the fundamental laws of human life are not disregarded without a penalty being suffered by those who disregard them. These fundamental laws are enforced. Man did not make them. He makes a great many laws, many of which are evaded more or less successfully. But the real laws he neither makes, nor evades, if he violates them, he does not escape the penalty. Consider all that you know of your own life and the lives of others, and consult your doctor, or your knowledge and conscience, and see whether you really think anybody is really beating any of the fundamental laws of human life.

Western Home Monthly: For all that there are many large cities on this continent, the outstanding fact about Canada and the United States is that, on the whole, both are rural or agricultural countries. Both Canada and the United States depend upon their crops for their prosperity. The fall in the prices of the products of the industry of the farmers have during the past few years forced rural problems to the forefront in both countries. Rural problems are thus compelling general attention in both countries with an urgency that makes the whole population of each realize that the problems of the farmers and of the farmers' wives and of the young people on the farms are preeminently the problems of the nation as a whole. Should not the basic industry of the country be studied with the fullest possible sympathy and understanding and care not only by the governments, both Dominion and Provincial, but by our educational institutions and by many other public organizations, and by the people as a whole, including the people who live in the cities. Too many people live and work in the cities and too few on the land. The problem of how to check the movement of population from the land into the cities is one that must be grappled with. There is only one way of solving it, and that is by making the conditions of life and work on the land better, and bringing about such improvements in connection with the fundamental industry that it shall no longer be true that the farmer, considering his capital and the long hours of hard labour put in by himself and his family, is, on the whole, remunerated less than the average man in any other occupational class, with the possible exception of teachers and ministers. It is not in the interest of the nation that this should be so. There is no national duty of greater and more pressing importance than the duty of understanding and solving the problems presented by rural life and work.

Winnipeg Free Press: Manitoba may have to spend $40,000 to fight the grasshoppers this year. This is one field of warfare where nobody is likely to yell for a disarmament conference.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: Nothing separates our country from Canada except an imaginary line about 3,000 miles long. Crossing that line, you would hardly notice that you'd changed countries, except for customs, immigration and prohibition officials. The rest of the world burdened with misunderstanding and armaments, must envy us as they ponder that for more than a century there hasn't been a single fortification along the 3,000 mile Canadian-American frontier.

The Guardian: There is being brought home to the citizens of every province in Canada, the fact that our system of government is expensive, not more so it may be than others, but still enough so to warrant close scrutiny of our expenditures and wise husbanding of our resources. The Citizens' Research Institute of Canada has just issued a bulletin giving some very interesting statistics in regard to this matter. In 1920, Quebec paid $5.76 per head for education, legislation and general provincial government, administration of justice grants to agriculture, public welfare institutions; and the building, repairing and financing of highways, bridges and ferries. For similar services, Nova Scotia paid $7.32, Prince Edward Island $7.57, New Brunswick $7.69, Ontario $8.08, Manitoba $13.76, Saskatchewan $14.39, Alberta $14.69, and British Columbia $29.84. There seems to be a very great difference between Quebec and British Columbia, and the question naturally arises as to whether the different provinces are really getting the same work done more cheaply, in some cases than in others, or whether the difference in cost represents really difference in what is done. The probability seems to be that in the newer and more sparsely settled provinces, the increased cost is in part due to the smaller population. For education alone, the figures per capita are: Quebec, 75 cents, Nova Scotia 94 cents, New Brunswick 95 cents, Ontario $1.91, Prince Edward Island $2.39, Manitoba $2.63, Alberta $3.29, Saskatchewan $3.34, and British Columbia $4.73. In this case, the salaries paid to teachers is evidently one of the deciding factors, and this will undoubtedly affect the quality of the instruction. The annual charges in connection with provincial debts are heavy in the newer provinces, Manitoba paying $2.83 for 1920 per capita, as compared with Ontario's 80 cents and Quebec's 86 cents; but increased immigration will probably soon reduce this difference.

Financial Post: The appearance of E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., before the Railway Rates Committee of Parliament, furnishes an admirable example in handling a case that might be followed with profit by many other corporations in this country. The statement of Mr. Beatty admittedly made a deep impression even on the most radical of the members. This was because it was not antagonistic in content nor in delivery, but on the contrary was frank, clearly reasoned, and moderate in tone. In addition it contained a merit that perhaps few looked for; it was not defensive but constructive. Mr. Beatty did not take the ground that he went to Ottawa to represent his company for the purpose of showing cause why the Crow's Nest Pass agreement should not go into effect again after a lapse of four years. He took no strong stand either way; but gave a convincing argument why another course, and one which he outlined in some detail, would be more beneficial not only to the company but the country at large, a reduction in basic commodities, impartially applied, with no special regard for sections, nor mileage areas. And over the whole proceedings the C. P. R. president cast that mantle of simple dignity that rests always with him. It is a true saying that he knew his subject. He has always given this impression even before he reached his present high office, when as chief counsel he represented its interests. He gave the impression that the entire knowledge, much of it technical, that the company possessed on the subject of freight rates in Canada, was in his keeping, and not only at his disposal but at that of the other side, or the whole public. For weeks before the case came up at Ottawa, Mr. Beatty was buried with his experts studying the problem from every angle until when he appeared as the first officer for this huge transportation system he was the master not only of his own case but to a great extent of his audience. He did not have to step aside after some generalities to make way for some technical official; after he had stated his case he was in a position to submit to any cross-examination that could be put to him, and he emerged with only a strengthening of the impression his original statement of his case had conveyed. The public are just beginning to understand what qualities rested in E. W. Beatty, K. C., that prompted those shrewd directors of the C.P.R. to make him successor when the late president laid down the burdens of this office.

Invitations are now out for the Hague conference.

What Do You Know About Chiropractic?

Do you believe that it is a Health Science which is daily relieving the sufferings of thousands and saving thousands from premature grave? Is your belief based upon actual experience or simply upon hearsay or is it a matter of fact that you have given the subject little serious thought?

Do you know that CHIROPRACTIC is entirely different to any other form of Drugless Science and that it has nothing in common with OSTEOPATHY?

Do you know that there are ten thousand chiropractors who are practicing their profession in the country at the present time and that still the supply is not equal to the demand?

Do you know that in the recent 'flu' epidemic chiropractors only lost one case out of 886, or one-ninth of one per cent?

Do you know that it has been proven beyond a reasonable doubt that as a prophylactic (preventive) method, Chiropractor stands head and shoulders above any other?

Ninety-five per cent of so-called Disease is caused by a subluxation of one or more vertebrae (small bones) of the spine which cause an irritation of the nerves, preventing the life force from flowing normally. The chiropractor relieves this irritation by CHIROPRACTIC SPINAL ADJUSTMENTS with his bare hands only. The subluxated bones are put back into their normal position, the irritation is relieved, the life force flows uninterruptedly and Health is the result.

Mechanical defects cannot be corrected by the employment of drugs. The chiropractor is a spine specialist, a human machinist, who has been trained to know the spine thoroughly.

See your Chiropractor, ask him for information regarding his wonderful Science. Get him to give you a Spinal Analysis and ascertain just what condition your spine is in. It will pay you.

It is the intention of the Canadian government to send an exhibition train through France this year. An item of $50,000 to cover the cost of the train has been approved by the House of Commons. To date 5,000 head of cattle have been shipped out of Montreal to Liverpool and the continent this season. The greater proportion of these animals are from American points. Eight years ago a popular brand of cigarettes, "Players" sold ten for ten cents; four years ago the price was ten for fifteen cents; then ten for seventeen and a half cents, and now ten for twenty-two cents. The taxation in Great Britain is $5.40 per thousand; in the United States $3.00 per thousand; in Canada $10.50 per thousand.

Members of the government will make a decision shortly in the application of the Calgary Gas company for permission to cross road allowances with a pipe line by means of which the company plans to transport gas from the Redcliff field near Medicine Hat to augment the supply in Lethbridge and Calgary and other points. The application is being supported by the city of Calgary and is being opposed by the city of Medicine Hat and the town of Redcliff, all of whom have sent delegations to interview the government. Medicine Hat and Redcliff claim such a pipe line will deplete the gas field upon which these two places claim to depend for their industrial life. Calgary's present gas supply is almost exhausted which is their reason for supporting the application of the gas company.

THEY FINALLY WENT CRAZY ABOUT THEIR EDITOR

Here's a story published in an exchange which shows how greatly the people of a community in Kansas appreciated their editor: "In appreciation of the work of a Kansas editor for their community a bunch of citizens recently presented him with a bouquet. On the same occasion a quartet from a local church sang a few sweet songs and a minister made a little talk. After the minister's talk six husky men carried the popular editor from the house and placed him tenderly in a model 1921 plumed sedan and the whole town formed in parade behind the editor's expensive car. After the parade the appreciative crowd returned to their homes serene in the thought of having provided one bright day in the life of their local news purveyor, even if they did wait until he was dead to do it."—The Fourth Estate.

FACES

(By Walt Mason)

The face you wear was Nature's gift; and it may be, perhaps, that people who before you drift may have more handsome maps. But let this not disturb your rest, don't dope your face with drugs; for Nature knows just what is best when she distributes mugs. My frontispiece I thought too fierce; inspired by foolish hope, I sent away and got a tierce of Johnson's Beauty Dope. I spread the mixture on my brow, and on my cheeks and chin; "I will be fairly dazzling now," I said, and rubbed it in. I spread the ointment on my ears, and put some on my nose, and dreamed of going down the years as lovely as a rose. But all my dreams were doomed to smash, they died upon a day; the Beauty Dope brought out a rash that will not go away. And old friends view my face with grief; their gibes I've long endured; "You're looking like a side of beef that wasn't rightly cured." My skin has an unwholesome shine, and scaly is my crown; my nose is slightly out of line, my mouth is upside down. Could I but have the useful face I had on that bright day, before I vainly tried to chase the blemishes away! I would not touch it up with grease, or paint it pink or white, but let it be, and live in peace, and have sweet dreams at night.

FIRE TEXTBOOKS

That education in the public schools of Canada should include a reading course on fire prevention, has been repeatedly emphasized by the Dominion Fire Prevention Association. Numerous subjects taught in the schools are less profitable and might well be dispensed with to make room for a short course in practical citizenship. In an effort to advance the matter, and with a view to securing uniformity, the various provincial authorities were approached with the suggestion that the Dominion department prepare and publish a standard textbook for general distribution to schools in Canada. For various reasons, the suggestion did not meet with the approval which was anticipated so that the matter now stands in abeyance.

The first one will be held June 14 at Vermilion, another at Lamont on June 20, one at Lacombe on June 21, and one at Rochester on July 7. Six other points, including Olds, are planning to have matches, though dates have not yet been set. These matches are held under the auspices of the local agricultural societies and under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture.

False Economy Has No Value

TAKING A CHANCE

This same woman, however, may order a suit from a mail order house on the strength of nothing more than a pretty picture and an alluring description. She has not even the opportunity to try it on, to say nothing of the chance of examining the fabric, noting the exact shade of the material and inspecting the workmanship. She is taking chances on the suit fitting her, on the material being good and durable, the shade becoming to her and the workmanship of such a character that the suit will not fall to pieces. The woman who takes such chances cannot be called a shrewd shopper.

It might be more easily understood why mere man, unaccustomed and averse, as a rule, to shopping excursions, should fall a victim to the catalogue habit. He might find it easier to order from the picture in the catalogue than to go to a store and look for the article that he wanted or he might take the position that he wouldn't know what he was getting anyway if he went to the store and he might as well take a chance on the mail order gamble, but why the woman who knows what she wants and knows that she is getting what she wants when she gets it should buy on the "sight unseen" plan—well, that's another question altogether.

It has been estimated by some students of the merchandising game that 80 per cent. of all retail buying is done by women. This may be a high estimate, but a visit to the retail stores of any town or city is enough to convince one that the figures are not too high. The preponderance of women among the buyers is sufficient, at any rate, to make not only the retailer, but the manufacturer and the wholesaler realize that it is the women that they must please with their merchandise.

Because they do by far the greater part of the buying in any community, the women have a responsibility that they do not always appreciate. The women of a town, through their buying power, can make or break the merchants of a town and as a natural consequence they can make or break the town. It is in their power to make it a prosperous town or a dead town. When the women of a town acquire the mail order habit, the town may just as well begin making arrangements for its own obsolescence.

Just why a woman, who is a shopper by instinct and a shrewd judge of values in merchandise, should succumb to the lures of the mail order house it is difficult to understand but, unfortunately, some of them do. No one knows better than the woman who has had some experience in the buying of merchandise how difficult it is to distinguish between the genuine and the imitation even after a close inspection. In fact, this is the exception rather than the rule. The merchants know it and expect it. They expect a woman, if she is a good shopper, to "look around a little."

If a woman should walk into a retail store and purchase the first suit that she tried on, for instance, the shock probably would prove fatal to the storekeeper or the saleswoman. The chances are that she will try on a dozen suits and look at as many more before she selects one that suits her taste or pocketbook, and the storekeeper not only expects but wishes her to do this. He wishes her to be satisfied as he knows that a satisfied customer is the best advertisement that he can obtain.

MOSSLEIGH NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Spankie returned to their home at Vulcan on Sunday from Mossleigh, where they have been visiting with Mrs. Spankie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Branson. Mr. Spankie reports that the majority of the crops in the Vulcan district are looking well although the hoppers are doing some damage, but the farmers are holding them with poison to a large extent.

RED CROSS NOTES

June 11 was "Childrens Day" and a large crowd gathered at the Red Cross Sunday School to celebrate it. Songs were beautifully sung by the following: Six girls of Mrs. C. H. Kelley's class, Addie Woodman, Cora Love, Bernice Dunham, Mrs. Harry Johnston, and a duet by Mrs. Kelley and Grace Dunham. Mr. A. J. Clayton, the superintendent, gave a very fine address and Mr. Duncan preached a short sermon to the children. During intermission each child was given a nice big banana which, needless to say, was fully enjoyed. Bananas were also sent to children who were unable to be present.

G.W.G. Khaki Combination Overhauls $2.85 at Spooner's Big Sale.

The Red Cross baseball team, accompanied by wives, sisters, sweat-hearts and "fans" in general journeyed to Brant Saturday afternoon to play the Brant nine. This being the first game of the season for the Brant boys they were at a decided disadvantage, however they all agree it was a good game. The Brant Boys are real sports, and we hope to see a return game right soon on our own diamond. The score was 7-11 in favor of Red Cross.

Messrs. Nafzieker, Woodman and Kothlow took a trip, last week to a lake about sixty-five miles east, and brought home some fine pike.

We take much pleasure in announcing the birth of a baby girl, June 10, to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Love. Congratulations to all concerned, especially the proud grand parents.

Did you notice Snow (Mrs. W.) in town last Saturday evening? The first of this particular sort of snow since July 1st 1921.

Feeding dope to grasshoppers is the favorite early morning diversion in this community just now. It seems to require several, or at least two doses, as they do not all hatch out at the same time. It is bad for hens and turkeys. Mr. Robbie Love lost several from eating it.

Redlandview W.I. met at Mrs. W. G. Peterson's on Wednesday, June 7, in spite of the rain. A short program was given, song by Ruth Peterson, recitations by Evelyn Peterson and Evelyn Phillips.

Mr. Jno. Fulton has been on the sick list we are sorry to say. Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Dunham leave on Monday for the Institute convention in Calgary.

Mr. S. Roy is very seriously ill.

ENSIGN NEWS

A. McIntyre, our local blacksmith, has installed a gas engine and hammer and is now equipped to handle all kinds of blacksmith and wood work.

The farmers of this vicinity are busy plowing summerfallow and between times fighting grasshoppers, although this district does not appear to have as many as most districts.

Mrs. J. Williams, one of the earliest settlers in this district is seriously indisposed at the High River hospital. Her condition is reported on favourably after a major operation and we hope she will soon be out of danger.

The smile on P. Couture is not caused by the recent rains but by the arrival of a baby girl.

Baseball was organized for the season last week and practice is called for on Wednesday.

Don't forget U.F.A. Sunday, June 25. Service Ensign, 11 a.m. Special address and special music. Why not get the habit and make every Sunday U.F.A. Sunday.

GOLDEN RULE W. I.

The regular meeting of Golden Rule Women's Institute held at the home of Mrs. D. H. Galbraith on Thursday, first of June, was made interesting by short sketches of pioneer days by Mrs. S. Forester, Mrs. M. Middleton, Mrs. J. A. Smith and Mrs. Larson. Mrs. Chew, constituency convener for the district paid the Institute a visit and gave an instructive talk on Child Welfare. Tickets are now being sold for the assignment of one of the quilts made for the contest. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ruth Koeller, on Thursday, June 15th.

In one of the items of last week's issues exceptions were taken. However the item was handed to the correspondent and requested it be printed. If we maligned any one the writer is very sorry and will assure them it will not occur again.

Mr. D. Harper spent a few days of last week in Staveland.

A warm rain started falling Monday and continued a gentle downfall until some time Wednesday night. The farmers were all very jubilant as it revived the grain wonderfully. The rain also revived the grasshoppers and they were all very hungry which resulted in everybody being busy poisoning them. In some places they are checked while other places they are not.

Mr. R. Mills now has his radiophone constructed so he can catch messages from Calgary.

A number of the members of the Women's Institute were making necessary arrangements Friday for their dinner which they will serve on Sports Day.

A very interesting and exciting ball game was played Saturday on the Brant diamond between Red Cross and Brant. Red Cross won the game, the score being eleven to seven.

A most pleasing addition was added to the services at the Methodist church Sunday night when Mrs. Washburn sang a lovely solo entitled, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

Mr. M. Parker was a Vulcan visitor on Monday where he was consulting a doctor as to poison on his face caused by the arsenic in the grasshopper poison. Mr. L. St. Clair is taking his place in the mixing station during his absence.

Mrs. M. St. Clair of Chicago is visiting her son, Mr. L. St. Clair and family. This being her first visit to Canada, not having seen her son and family for some ten years. She found them quite changed. The country also is quite different to what she is accustomed to. The mountains in the distance and the streams are quite a rest to a perfectly flat country.

"Why did you quit going around with that labor saving device?" "Had to work too hard trying to sell it."

ACCIDENT

Quite an accident occurred in the Brant district on Saturday when Mr. G. Forbes, employee of Wm. Fletcher and son while out poisoning grasshoppers fell from the wagon when the team started up, breaking his collar bone and two ribs. He was rushed to the High River hospital and had the bones set. He then returned to the Fletcher ranch.

The annual Elks Carnival opened in Calgary on Monday to run for the week, June 12 to 17, and a big time is anticipated.

The potato crop of Alberta will be considerably less than last year, but the quality of the tubers is likely to be much better than in other years.

The late frost in the north country did not damage the grain but set the crops back at least two weeks, and good growing weather with rain is needed to make the recovery.

The annual convention of the Women's Institutes is in progress this week at Calgary, and will last until Saturday, the convention of girls clubs being held the last two days of the week.

Binder Twine is this year down in price. The cost to the farmer will be about 14 cents a lb.; about 6 cents a lb. less than it was last year. Let us hope that there will be plenty of use for it in the province.

The final draft of the new course of public school studies to be put into effect at the beginning of the fall term, was considered by the professional branch of the general committee on revision of the curriculum at a session held in Edmonton the past week.

The deepest hole in Canada is an oil well drilled by the Imperial Oil Co. near Pincher Creek. The drilling went down to a depth of 4,394 feet and was dry, the result being that the company has eliminated this area from the potential oil fields of Canada.

About 32,000 live cattle were imported into the United Kingdom from Canada for food in 1921, according to a statement made by Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen, Minister of Agriculture. In the first four months of this year 2,193 cattle were imported, whilst in 1919 and 1920 no importations took place.

Practical aid to colonists by means of clearing a portion of their lots is intended by the provincial government of Quebec, according to an announcement made by Edmond Robert, provincial colonization agent at Montreal. A system will be established whereby the government will clear at its own expense fifteen acres of land on each colonization lot.

Continued rains over the west are reported in the last crop report of the Canadian Pacific Railway, with great benefit to land already seeded, but impeding work on that not sown. The cattle market continues strong with prices showing a tendency to rise and an active demand for really good cattle. The hog market is equally good and likely to remain so whilst good draft horses are in demand at profitable prices. Hay lands and pasture fields are in excellent shape and all animals doing well on the open prairies.

"ROUND THE WORLD"

Tragic End of a Dream—Major Bl... if Successful Will Stop at the High River Aerodrome

It will be of immediate interest to Albertans generally and High River residents in particular that the late Sir Ross Smith, who was killed recently in England, while making a test flight with his airship, preparatory to fly around the world with his brother, had his route map planned out, and High River was included as one of his stopping places. In a recent London publication, there was published a time map and the air route round the world in which Vancouver, High River, Winnipeg, Camp Borden, Sydney and St. Johns are marked as stopping places.

It was a sad stroke of fate that intervened when Sir Ross White testing the machine that had been selected for the great voyage, crashed to the grounds at Brooklands, and both Sir Ross Smith and Lieut. Bennett were killed.

Nothing that Jules Verne ever imagined in his most inspired moments outvies the cold reality of the task that was to be undertaken by the adventurous Australians. They were to begin their flight from Croydon early in May, going first to Lyons and thence to Rangoon, via the same route that they followed on the flight Australia. They were then to go for Tokio, where a spare engine was to await them, to be fitted if want.

Flying due north from Tokio, they were to make for the far north. Japan and cross the Pacific to Alaska via the Aleutian Archipelago. They would then have crossed Canada from Vancouver, with stop offs at the above mentioned places. At Camp Borden a spare engine was to await the flyers and the last part of the journey across the Atlantic might have been made in one flight or in stages via the Azores.

Major W. T. Blake, a British aviator is now taking up the preparatory work performed by the two brave men and after considerable delay in France caused by a defective engine, he is now on the way and will follow the plans as outlined by Sir Ross Smith.

MARKET FOR RYE

An effort is being made by the department of agriculture to establish a market for Alberta rye across the seas. There is a splendid opening this year in France, Russia and other European countries, and W. J. Stephen, crop commissioner of the department has already written to the trade commissioners of these countries in an endeavor to secure a market for the rye that Alberta will have to market this fall. It is estimated that there may be about 2,000,000 bushels for export this year.

It is reported that the McMurray Asphaltum and Oil, Limited of Petrolia, Ontario, has been granted concessions by the Dominion government and has perfected a process for separating oil from tar sands at Fort McMurray. It is said that $250,000 will be expended on initial work in connection with same. Nineteen-hundred acres of tar sands are reported to have been leased the company by the Federal government.

BAIT DISTRIBUTOR

Reckless and Deficient Use Is Practically Useless

It has been drawn to our attention that some of our farmers are apparently wasting the poison bait supplied for the fight against the grasshoppers in two ways:

1st, by placing it out in the heat of the day when it rapidly dries and becomes ineffective.

2nd, by throwing it in large hand-fulls instead of broadcasting it as thinly as possible. Several reports have reached us of the death of valuable stock as a result of the latter method.

We fear that many, because they do not have to pay cash for the bait, overlook the fact that they ultimately do pay for it in full. The part of the expense borne by the municipalities will be met by a tax on land. The part borne by the province comes out of the general revenues of the province which we all directly or indirectly provide.

We have seen the result of poisoning done by one farmer where he had located a very prolific hatching ground. He had scattered thinly at daybreak for four mornings, the fresh bait. Every clod covered hundreds of dead hoppers and those living were only those hatched that day. The ground when stirred up disclosed hundreds of what looked like eggs which proved on closer examination to be the empty shells; nearly all the eggs had hatched and nearly all the hoppers were killed.

It is now rather interesting to note that Foster is predicting $2 wheat due to droughts in the Antipodes and Europe. If he hits it right in that regard and gives Southern Alberta a real crop, Foster will be "top hole" with the farmers here.
